

Updates Coming Soon!

Whew! I've been on a whirlwind of so many activities that I've barely had time to settle down and get down to updating this website! For that, I'm sorry. But good news! I was able to attend San Diego ComiCon this year, and caught the Voice actors panel on both Saturday and Sunday. Featured were two cast members of Voltron, Neil Ross (Keith, Pidge, Jeff) and Michael Bell (Lance, Sven). Both were amazingly nice! I recorded both of the panels, and hope to have them posted once I find the cable to capture the footage to my computer.

Beyond that, real life has also kept me busy; my company's soccer team is in 4th place for our first season of play! We hope to do well in the play-offs! And I've been making some custom made items to sell. I'm getting ready to get an Artist Table at Kawaii Kon 2008, so I'm playing around with what items to sell. I have a list ready; I just need to now sit down and make them.

Well, sit back and check back often! Updates are just around the corner. And remember September marks the 23rd year of Voltron!
